The Apostle Paul

Paul the Apostle-Earl R. Piccirilli 1986-10-08 "Except for the Lord Himself, no single figure has done more for the Christian faith..." If you want to understand Christianity, you need to understand Paul. This book traces the life of the apostle, from his upbringing in the Jewish world through his ministry in the pagan world. Given a message — that man and woman had a purpose in earthly life and a future beyond the grave — he carried it first and unsuccessfully to his fellow Jews. Then, after a dramatic conversion, he became the greatest missionary of the New Testament era. He documented his life and message in a series of letters that offer a window into the spiritual and cultural development of the early church. This guide to the Apostle Paul brings his remarkable story to life. Drawing from the book of Acts, Paul's many letters, and historical and archaeological sources, this fully illustrated resource explores the social, cultural, political, and religious background of the first-century Roman world in which Paul lived and ministered. It sheds light on the places he visited and the people he met along the way. Most importantly, it helps us understand how and why Paul was used by God in such extraordinary ways. Pastors, students, and anyone engaged in Bible study will find this an indispensable and inspiring resource.

An Illustrated Guide to the Apostle Paul-Alan S. Bundy 2021-08-17 The life and ministry of the apostle Paul was a sprawling adventure covering thousands of miles on Roman roads and treacherous seas as he boldly proclaimed the gospel of Jesus to whoever would listen, be they Athenians or Gentiles. His impact on the church was immense. His letters to the Corinthians and Romans are among the most beautiful call to reconciliation? Can a person who lives with the unquenchable anguish of empathy always rejoice? Can a man’s description of the horrors of human sin be succeeded by his delight in human splendor? Can a man with a backache of steel be as tender as a nursing mother? If we know this man—if we see what Piper sees—we too will love him. Paul’s testimony is a matter of life and death. Piper invites you into his relationship with Paul in the hope that you will know, live, and follow Paul.

Paul the Apostle and the Christian Life-Scott McKnight 2016-02-22 The “new perspective” on Paul, an approach that seeks to reorient the apostle Paul and his letters against the backdrop of first-century Judaism, has been criticized by some as not having value for ordinary Christians living ordinary lives. In this volume, world-renowned scholars explore the implications of the new perspective on Paul for the Christian life and church. James D. G. Dunn, N. T. Wright, Bruce Lonerganer, Scott McKnight, and other leading New Testament scholars offer a response to this question: How does the apostle Paul understand the Christian life? The book makes a fresh contribution to the new perspective on Paul conversation and offers important new insights into the orientation of the Christian life.

Paul as a Problem in History and Culture-Patrick Gray 2016-04-19 In many ways, it poses questions about the authenticity of the letters and leaves up surprising answers. As such, it represents a fascinating study that breaks with the traditional way of thinking about the Pauline tradition as including the teachings and writings of Paul himself. In 'The Apostle Paul and Women in the Church', Patrick Gray brings intellectual and cultural history into conversation with study of the New Testament, providing a balanced account and assessment of widespread antipathy to Paul and exploring what the controversy tells us about ourselves.

The Two Greatest Prayers of the Apostle Paul-Witness Lee 1989-01-01 This book covers the two greatest prayers of the Apostle Paul found in the deep and profound book of Ephesians. The first prayer, recorded in Ephesians 1:17-23, is that the believers might receive a spirit of wisdom and revelation that they might see the secret things hidden from the foundation of the world. The second prayer, recorded in Ephesians 3:16-21, is that the believers might be strengthened in the inner man so that they might enter into the experience of what they have seen.
